

RULE-BREAKING

In Annie Brahler's own snug kitchen, a peacock finds the ideal perch on a Tiffany-Blue Frigidaire while a former buffet with its cabinet doors changed out for drawers is transformed into an island. Never underestimate the effect of a glamorous lighting fixture in the kitchen; this one feels both intentional and spontaneous.

RULE-BREAKING

Designer Alex Papachristidis understands it's in the playful tension of juxtaposing the old with the new that great decorating can be found. Too much of one thing (no matter how beautiful) and the eye tires. Here, a precious antique gets renewed vigor when placed beneath the surprise pop of modern artwork.
